Onsite isn't obsolete.
58.5%

of the workforce works onsite.¹

Hybrid and remote work arrangements may continue to be the topic of choice in many circles, but the truth is a majority of the workforce is working onsite and powering the economy forward. An efficient and productive workplace requires tech that just works — but what's more, it lets you focus on growing your business.

Traditional brick-and-mortar industries like retail and restaurants are growing.

4%–6%

projected growth in 2023 for brick-and-mortar retailers.²

6.4%
