

End-to-end AV solutions

Bring absolute clarity to the hybrid workplace

Today's workplace is everywhere. Organizations need high-quality images and sound that keep employees engaged in meetings, presentations, and webinars, no matter where they are. Sony's end-to-end AV solutions enable real-time collaboration and asynchronous remote streaming that can drive productivity and unlock the potential of every team member.

Our remote control cameras and beamforming ceiling mic capture every detail, while our professional displays, projectors, and line array speaker deliver crystal clear images and sound. Plus, our extensive network of technology partners brings even more value to our BRAVIA Pro Displays for digital signage and device management.
