

MICROSOFT TEAMS RAPID READINESS SERVICE

Bring Collaboration into the Spotlight

Microsoft Teams Rapid Readiness Methodology

Teams provides a workspace for real-time communication, collaboration, meetings, and file and app sharing. No matter the reason you are searching for a platform to support a remote workforce, Connection can help.

With our Microsoft Teams Rapid Readiness engagement, we can help your organization quickly assess its environment and determine your overall readiness for a Microsoft Teams rollout. During this advisory service, we will provide a roadmap that documents business and technical requirements, deployment best practices, and design considerations.

The phases are as follows:

Day 1: Discover

- Collect information on current environments through technical assessment
- Identify business requirements and desired business outcomes for Teams through stakeholder interviews

Day 2: Analyze

- Generate findings based on data collected
- Create use case specific options for deployment
- Develop an overall recommendations roadmap and design for the Teams implementation

Day 3: Recommend

- Present findings and recommendations
- Collect concerns and challenges
- Present SOW for implementation

Create a Teams environment that takes your organization's needs into consideration. Contact a Connection Account Team today for more information.
